Report Consulate Staff Members as Dead or Wounded

British May Have Been Killed During Massacre in Chinese Turkestan When Rebellious Natives Clashed With Forces of Newly-Proclaimed Government—Town Virtually Sacked

MOSCOW, March 15 (AP).—Several members of the British Consulate's staff tonight were reported killed or wounded, and 2,000 Uyghurs, comprising most of the civil population of the town of Kashgar, in Sinkiang, Chinese Turkestan, were massacred in fierce fighting between rebellious Tungan natives and forces of the newly-proclaimed "Independent Government."

This information was contained in reports from Tashkent. Kashgar itself was virtually sacked during the combat, which took place when Tungan detachments attacked the town and rescued a garrison of Tungan, besieged in a fortress there by independent Government troops.

CONSULATE FIRED ON
The latter forces, attempting a counter attack, were beaten back, and in retreating sought refuge near the British Consulate, which was fired on by victorious Tungans, with a number of fatalities and casualties among its personnel. Retreating independently, the Government troops joined scattered detachments under the Emir of Chotan and occupied Jarkent, while parlia groups of Uyghurs and Kirghis, supporting the independent Government forces, took positions on roads and cut off Kashgar.

Meanwhile, General Maclung, leader of the Kashgar Independent Government troops, was reported marching on Kashgar with remnants of his army.

ADVOCATE UNIFICATION
The dispatch added that British agents in Kashgar, Chotan and Jarkent—three strategic towns in Southwest Sinkiang—have advocated unification of the three districts into an independent Moslem domain ruled by an unidentified Moslem prince of British India. It is reported that this advice conflicted with "Japanese plans" in Sinkiang.

ON HOLIDAY AS CLOUDS GATHER

Political Truce Threatened by Veterans, Communists and Socialists

PARIS, March 16 (AP).—Storm clouds threatened the French Cabinet's "political truce" as Parliament quit tonight, for a two-months' Easter holiday.

The veteran Premier Gaston Doumergue, who restored order in riot-torn Paris streets, last month, mostly by a genial smile, pushed through the troubled 1934 budget largely by economies of 1,000,000,000 francs in veterans' pensions.

PREPARE TO FIGHT
Veterans show no desire to make one-third of the 3,000,000,000 francs of economies which the Government urgently needs, and they prepared to fight a measure whose introduction, the Government announced in the face of the Opposition, has been "temporarily postponed."

A second storm cloud is the uneasiness in Right circles over friendly overtures in progress between Communists and Socialists. The Right extremists even charged that the Communists and Socialists were arming and awaiting an opportunity to defeat the present National Union Government.

The Nationalist Journal Deu Debats said, today, the Communist and Socialist manoeuvres are "leading to a civil war."

Thousands Of Moors Surrender

RABAT, Morocco, March 16 (AP).—Some 150,000 Moors, it was estimated by officials today, have yielded their arms to hard-driving columns of the French Legion now engaged in breaking up a few insubordinate groups of resistance in lofty mountain fastnesses.

Submission of the chief Beigacem NGADI, for many years one of the principal leaders of resistance to the French, and the reported surrender to Spanish forces of the Beni Haddad, Meretbi Rebbo Ammedan, are regarded as crowning the Legion's efforts with success.

SHOOT AND KILLS BROTHER
SEATTLE, March 16 (AP).—Playing jail with a 22 calibre rifle he had been forbidden to touch, eight-year-old Robert Christensen today shot and killed his brother, William, aged six, in a bedroom of their home, police said. William was shot through the heart.

Makes Obesiance to Will of Heaven

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE BLANKET POWERS UNDER REFUNDING BILL

Earthquake Rocks Nova Scotia Coast But Damage Is Nil

HALIFAX, March 17 (CP).—An earth tremor woke residents of half a dozen towns along the south shore of Nova Scotia early today, but no damage was reported. "I thought a train had struck the building," declared the railway dispatcher at Bridgewater.

Convict W. Jones In Assize Court

William Jones, charged on two counts with having assaulted Helen Ruffa, was convicted on both counts at an early hour this morning when a jury reached a conclusion at 1:15 o'clock. Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson in dismissing the jury announced that he would post sentence on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

TWO KILLED WHEN FALSE ALARM RAISED

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 16 (AP).—Two girls were trampled to death and eighteen other children were seriously injured during a stampede in the Bureka motion picture theatre here today. The ventilator fan was making a peculiar sound and someone shouted "Fire!" The several hundred persons in the audience, practically all of them children, rushed for the exits.

Dillinger's Aide in Prison Escape and Under-Sheriff Dead

Wounds Received in Gun Battle Prove Fatal—Three Others Injured—Desperado Sought in Ontario and Michigan

PORT HURON, Mich., March 16 (AP).—Under-Sheriff Charles Cavanaugh died in City Hospital, tonight, of bullet wounds suffered in a gun battle here, earlier in the day, with Herbert Youngblood, negro companion of John Dillinger in the latter's escape from the Crown Point, Indiana, jail, March 3.

Youngblood died a few hours after the shooting. Besides Cavanaugh, Sheriff William Van Antwerp, Deputy Howard Lohr, and Eugene Fields, Negro bystander, also were wounded. Lohr's condition is very critical. The sheriff and Fields suffered slight wounds.

Herbert Youngblood, who was facing a murder charge when he accompanied Dillinger in a break from the Crown Point (Indiana) jail on March 3, shot it out with Sheriff William L. Van Antwerp and three deputies. They had gone in search of a Negro who boasted blood renegade his identity.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN CHACO GRAN

Paraguayan Claim Gains—Cargo of Cartridges on Way to Bolivia

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 16 (AP).—The Minister of War announced tonight that there was heavy fighting in the Gran Chaco yesterday and that the Paraguayan troops advanced a considerable distance into territory formerly held by the Bolivians.

COLON, C.Z., March 16 (AP).—The French freighter, Arica, arrived today from Le Havre with a cargo of sixty-eight tons of cartridges consigned to the Government of Bolivia for use in its war against Paraguay.

Measure Would Allow Refinancing of $125,000,000 of Debts in Any Manner Deemed Advisable—London Loans Exempt—B.C. Court Actions Would Be Limited

BLANKET powers for the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to refund all or any portion of the British Columbia direct or indirect debt, except loans under the British Colonial Inscribed Stock Act, on the best terms that may be available, are contained in a Government bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday, by Hon. John Hart, for first reading.

NOT DISPUTING LOCARNO PACT

Germany Never Doubted Validity—Convinced Disarmament Possible

GENEVA, March 16 (AP).—Germany has no thought of weakening the Post-War Locarno Pact and has never doubted its validity. A German arms memorandum recently sent to France and made available here tonight, said:

The note set forth that, when the disarmament problem has been settled, Germany will discuss her relations with the League of Nations in conferences with other powers.

The memorandum was sent to Paris on March 13 and was in reply to a French disarmament note sent to Berlin on February 14.

Germany made it clear that she must have more armaments than provided for in the Versailles Treaty. She accepted a scheme for the supervision of armaments and agreed that Brownshirt organizations should not be armed and receive no military training provided similar semi-official military organizations in other countries were treated likewise.

The note also expressed the conviction that disarmament is possible.

SEATTLE PLANT GOING TO CHINA

Chemical Factory to Be Moved Across Pacific—Is Second Project Named

SEATTLE, March 16 (AP).—The Pacific Ammonia Chemical Company plant, which has operated here for the past ten years, manufacturing commercial ammonia, has been sold to a Chinese syndicate, and will be moved to Shanghai, China, within about two weeks, it was disclosed today.

Other than admitting that the plant was "being moved," local officials of the Dupont Company, owners and operators of the plant, declined to comment in detail. J. F. Detweiler, Seattle manager of the Dupont interests, said he was going to take personal charge in Shanghai of the re-erection of the Seattle plant.

TO LOAD AT SEATTLE
The equipment, huge vats and boilers, some of which weigh as much as twenty tons, will be loaded directly on a freighter in Lake Union and sent across the Pacific.

Another similar development in acid and chemical manufacture in the Orient, was revealed several days ago when Major A. F. Spring, of Cleveland, Ohio, and M. A. Musard, Baltimore, a chemical engineer, had sailed for Shanghai, commissioned to arrange the construction of one of the largest acid and chemical plants in the world.

Government Seeking Legislative Power From B.C. Assembly

Loss of Life Is Feared in Flood Destroying Town

GUAYAGUIL, Ecuador, March 16 (AP).—Town of Celica, said official advices today, was destroyed by a flood following upon heavy rains. It was feared there would be loss of life. The Government has sent aid.

EXPLORERS KEPT BUSY

Byrd Party Fights Fire and Performs Emergency Operation

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, March 16 (AP). (By Mackay Radio).—The past forty-eight hours have been one of the busiest and most exciting periods since Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd arrived here at the head of his second expedition to the Antarctic.

In the two days, an expedition airplane crashed and was wrecked, the ice sheet broke up, three short flights to new bases to the south were made by plane crews, a fire damaged the administration building, and a main living quarters, and an appendectomy was performed upon a cameraman.

FIRE SOON EXTINGUISHED
The gasoline tank in the shaft of the administration building caught fire early today, but the flames were extinguished before extensive damage was done. As the fire raged, Joseph A. Pelter, United States Navy aerial cameraman, became ill. Four members of his expedition rescued the surgical instruments of Dr. Louis H. Potaka from a crate under the tank, and Dr. Potaka then performed an operation, removing Pelter's appendix.

SAVED BY FAST WORK
The physician said the fast work in putting out the fire and rescuing the instruments probably saved Pelter because the appendix would likely have burst in a short time.

Pilot Bowlin and Radioman Bailey made a flight to the fifty-mile depot to the south this morning transporting 1,100 pounds of food supplies there for the advance winter base, which Admiral Byrd hopes to establish about 200 miles from Little America.

Will Move for Currie Memorial

OTTAWA, March 16 (CP).—Representations will be made to the Government to the end that a suitable national memorial be erected in Canada to the memory of the late Sir Arthur Currie, forerunner of the Canadian Corps, according to a resolution unanimously adopted by the fifth Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion here.

Sir Arthur had for years been grand president of the Canadian Legion.

City Council Given Choice Between Two Financial Policies

Sinking Fund Default and Forty-One Mill Rate or Tax Increase and Partial Maintenance of Debt Charge

THE City Council, yesterday, was given the choice of two financial policies—one presented by the Mayor, which led to a reduction in taxes, but failed to meet sinking fund obligations; and the other presented by Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, which led to higher taxation with partial maintenance of the sinking fund, rather than non-recognition, for at least one year, of the city's obligation to the bondholders.

An attempt to strike the tax rate at forty-one mills, at yesterday's session of the council, failed when a majority of the board decided to defer the matter until the next meeting of the public works committee.

The Mayor's proposal was that the rate be struck at forty-one mills and the estimates committee be instructed to balance the budget accordingly. This would be done by failing to meet sinking fund obligations; borrow from the Provin-

Premier Pattullo Asks Legislature to Hand Over Powers of Borrowing, Law-Making, Operation and Control of Industry, and Partnership in Public, Private and Civil Rights

VIRTUAL dictatorship by Premier Pattullo and his Cabinet; assumption of authority vested in the Legislature; power of absolute control over business, industry, private enterprise, natural resources, and municipal government by order-in-council, and the right to inflict penalties on those who oppose dictatorial decrees, are demanded of the Legislature by the Premier in a bill he introduced last night.

The measure, which would grant to the Pattullo Government far wider powers than those accorded to President Roosevelt under the N.R.A., plans assumption of authority even in the face of existing legislation, whether by public or private acts. Not only does it contemplate complete management of all natural resources, including "all lands, forests, waters, oil, natural gas, mines, minerals, and royalties belonging to the Province," but it specifically assumes the right to deal, as the Government may will, with "property and civil rights in the Province." It proposes to give the Cabinet power to loan money to industries; to assume control over municipal institutions, hospitals and schools.

EFFECT OF LAW
The powers which the Government asks are of the most inclusive character. It is proposed that they may be invoked without reference to the Legislature. Orders-in-council may be enacted covering all phases of provincial activities, and will have the force and effect of law when published in The Gazette. Courts are to be directed to enforce these orders-in-council.

While the extraordinary powers sought are limited to an indefinite date, it being stated that they shall be employed until the "prorogation of the next session of the Legislature," which is uncertain; there can be no recourse against the Government, following that period, for any acts done under the measure. The final clause says: "But no act or thing done, nor any right, privilege, obligation, liability or penalty acquired, accrued, accruing, incurred, or established under any ordinance, shall be affected by the fact that the ordinance has, by reason of this section, ceased to exist."

Introduced by Premier Pattullo, the bill was received by the House without comment, when it was announced that it was a measure to provide powers for the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council between sessions of the Legislature. It was not until the printed bill was distributed that members outside of the Liberal caucus had any inkling of the tremendous character of the legislation.

FURTHER POWERS

Earlier, a refunding bill, which also asked for extraordinary authority in the handling of the finances of British Columbia, was introduced. This financial measure, with the dictatorial powers asked for by the Premier, would delegate to the Government all the rights and powers of the Legislature.

Just how far the Government would go in the use of supreme legislative authority has not been indicated. In the discussion that arose in the corridors following the adjournment, one experienced member said that the powers sought might go so far as to restrict the Legislature itself. He pointed out that the term for which the powers sought was most indefinite, being until the prorogation of the next session. He was not sure, but thought that if other public acts could be set aside by order-in-council, then operation of the Constitution Act, itself, could be delayed, which would obviate the necessity for calling the House together next year.

FOUR SERIOUSLY HURT
MONTREAL, March 16 (CP).—What police described as a terrific fight, tonight, resulted in four people being seriously injured and a man held on a charge of attempted murder. The alleged fight broke out in a house in Lachine, near Montreal.

The bill, known as the Special Powers bill, was caucused by the Liberal members, last evening, and submitted to the House for a second reading. The Premier introduced it in the House shortly after 10 o'clock, and first reading was granted without discussion. Outside of the House, the Premier made an explanation of the Government's intentions in respect to the measure, and will follow this later by explanation in the Legislature when the bill comes up for second reading.

SEA "CREATURES" ON OREGON COAST

Camel-Headed Monster Appears to Crew of Lighthouse—Others Seen Previously

ASTORIA, Ore., March 16 (AP).—A sea creature about forty feet long, with an eight-foot neck and a head like a camel, was reported today by Captain J. Jensen of the light-house tender Rose to have been seen by members of the crew of the Columbia River lighthouse, stationed several miles off the river entrance. Captain Jensen made the report when he brought a relief crew ashore from the lighthouse today.

Members of an oil tanker said several days ago they saw similar fish or mammals a short distance off the Columbia River's mouth. Members of the crew said the creature swam about in the vicinity of the lighthouse for about twenty minutes before it disappeared.

ALTERNATE PROPOSAL
Alderman Brown's proposal is that the budget be reduced some $40,000; that the tax improvements be increased from 60 to 62-2-3 per cent, and that the mill rate be increased to forty-two mills. Under this proposal, there would be a shortage of only $111,000 instead of

FUEL COSTS QUESTIONED

Contract Recommendation Changed—Council Guaranteed Saving

Coincident with the awarding of a contract for the supply of fuel, the City Council yesterday decided to take up the question of whether the installation of automatic cost-stokers would save the city an amount of money justifying the change in the present method of stoking.

A representative of an automatic stoker manufacturer appeared before the public works committee yesterday and said that he could put a machine into the Agard Men's Home and another in the library which he guaranteed would give the city an annual saving in the fuel bill of $500 a year.

Alderman Walter Luney declared the council should go thoroughly into the matter, as he believed a saving of $1,500 a year could be made at the high school, and similar reductions could be effected in the fuel bill for schools and buildings under the council's control.

W. L. Morgan Fuel Company was awarded the contract for supplying the city with coal. Another firm had been recommended for the contract, but complaints had been received, it was stated, led to the change in the recommendation.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS LEGISLATIVE POWER

error-in-Council "power to do and authorize—such acts and things and to make—such ordinances—in anticipation of any condition—as he may consider necessary" in relation to the following matters:

1. "The reservation, preservation, management, development, sale, and disposition of the natural resources of the province, including—lands, forests, waters, oil, natural gas, mines, minerals and royalties belonging to the Province."

2. "The borrowing of money on the sole credit of the Province."

3. "The lending of money to industries and municipalities."

4. "The aiding and the joining with any person in the carrying on of any kind of industrial or productive operations and the payment of money out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund therefore, or for any purpose otherwise considered necessary or advisable."

5. "Provincial public works and property."

6. "The establishment, maintenance, management, and regulation of hospitals and schools within the province."

7. "Local works and undertakings (excepting steamships, trains and telegraphs and other communication extending beyond the limits of the province, and excepting such take within the province which may be declared by the Parliament of Canada exempt)."

8. "Property and civil rights in the province."

9. "The imposition of punishment by fine, penalty or imprisonment for enforcing any law of the Province (or in relation to any ordinance affecting matters within the scope of the new act)."

10. "Generally all matters of a merely local or private nature in the province."

On all the above points the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council would have power to pass mandatory regulations. Ordinances passed under the act would be published in the British Columbia Gazette and would have the force of law, enforceable by the courts of the province.

The powers vested in the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to his absolute discretion, and in addition to all other powers enjoyed by other acts.

A report on all actions taken by the Legislature would be laid before the Legislature within fifteen days after the opening of the next session, similar to the same provision in the refunding bill. The act and subsequent gazetted regulations would have effect until prorogation of the next session of the Legislature.

EMERGENT CONDITIONS
The preamble of the bill, introduced as by message from the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, reads:

"Whereas, owing to extraordinary conditions respecting business, finance, agriculture, industry, municipal government, and unemployment within the province, it is necessary and advisable that full power and authority be vested in the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to act promptly and effectively in meeting and dealing with those conditions, so far as it is within the powers of the Legislature to deal therewith, including the supervising, carrying on, aiding, developing, regulating, co-ordinating and prohibiting of industrial, financial, agricultural, industrial and municipal operations within the province, including the production, distribution and disposition of products within the province, and the employment of labor therein."

Then follow the substantive provisions of the bill, giving regulatory powers already outlined.

Word of the measure was introduced to the Liberal caucus before meeting its way to the House, and set corridors in a buzz, and was generally referred to by Government supporters as "The British Columbia Bill."

REASONS GIVEN
In a subsequent statement explaining the Government's reasons for introduction of the measure, Premier Pattullo said:

"We are facing extraordinary conditions. Everyone knows the financial position of the Province and our municipalities, and while we know that other provinces, states and countries have been facing similar difficulties, the fact of the matter is that we must prepare ourselves to meet conditions here, and the fact that we are asking the Legislature to grant the Government extraordinary powers is a recognition of the fact that we must be prepared to meet conditions from day to day."

"No one seems to be satisfied with the present position of unemployment relief. At the recent conference of the Dominion and the provinces in Ottawa, it was the unanimous opinion that a works programme and co-operation with industry were essential to reduce the number now on unemployment relief, and it was agreed that the present situation was not only unsound from a dollar-and-cent standpoint, but was seriously breaking down the morale of our people, particularly was the present system pernicious so far as the youth of our country is concerned."

"For some time the Province has been dependent upon advances of money from the Dominion Government to take care of the unemployment relief problem. We do not know what the ultimate policy of the Dominion Government may be, and we must fortify ourselves against all contingencies."

"We are taking authority to deal with our natural resources so that we may secure the maximum benefit from them, not only to provide employment for our people, but also to place us in a stronger position to meet our obligations."

"Needless to say, the Government is sensible of the responsibility placed upon it, but stands ready to accept this responsibility."

"The act will remain in force only until the prorogation of the next session of the Legislature."

TO TAKE ACTION
This Government is determined to actively meet the situation confronting us. While there has been a considerable improvement in business, it is perfectly obvious that business will not increase sufficiently rapidly to re-employ all those now out of work, simply by sitting idly by and letting things take their course. Through the stimulus of Governmental influence in co-operation with industry, I feel sure that many thousands can be put into profitable employment; at all events, we are going to make the effort."

"We propose to maintain the integrity of our institutions, see that none of our people are allowed to suffer for want of proper sustenance and to leave no excuse for sinister influences to sow seeds of discord in the minds of our people, and particularly having regard to the incitement in the minds of the youth of our country ideas that are subversive of constitutional government and individual liberty and freedom," the statement ended.

NO ESCAPE FOR INSULL
How the former Chicagoan was traced to the grimy and sea-battered freighter was disclosed tonight by police, who said his whereabouts were discovered through the questioning of an unnamed person, last night in the refunding bill. The act and subsequent gazetted regulations would have effect until prorogation of the next session of the Legislature.

HIGH PAID PASSAGE
The message referred to payment for a conveyance from Greece. Officers said the amount mentioned in the telegram was about $7,500.

It was learned on good authority that Insull had obtained a Rumanian visa for his trip to Europe.

It was believed it was secured through a resident of Bucharest, who recently visited Greece.

IN TORONTO JAIL
TORONTO, March 16 (CP).—De- feated in a seventeen-month legal battle against extradition, Martin Joseph Insull, former Chicago utilities operator, slept in a jail cell at Don prison tonight, pending arrival of authorities, who will take him back to the United States to face a $500,000 theft-embezzlement indictment.

At almost the same hour that his fugitive brother, Samuel, was frustrated in his attempt to evade authorities in Greece by meeting in a tramp steamer for Crete, Martin J. Insull walked through the high main doors of the Appeal Court to hear the judgment which would spell ruin to his fight against extradition.

The Chief Justice found that one charge facing Insull, the crime of $344,000—constituted the crime of theft in Canada. Another involving $20,000 was also indictable, according to the law. Upon these the white-haired fugitive was ordered extradited.

ATHENS, March 16 (AP).—The captain of the Greek freighter Malotis, on which Samuel Insull sought to escape from Greece, sent a wireless message to the Marine Ministry today saying he feared the fugitive might try to reach his ship.

The Marine Ministry replied he would hold the captain responsible.

CHASE RIVER HAS DISASTROUS FIRE
Two Valuable Houses Destroyed—Sleeping Occupants Have Narrow Escape

NANAIMO, B.C., March 16 (CP).—Two houses owned by Emmanuel Salo, Chase River, were destroyed by fire today with the loss estimated at $8,000. Mrs. Salo and her daughter were asleep when the fire started, but were awakened by neighbors who smashed a window through which the two escaped.

The second residence, in the rear of the Salo home, was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Massanen. They managed to save part of their furniture. The property was covered by insurance.

Safe After Long Wait In Desert
CAPETOWN, South Africa, March 16 (AP).—Sir Malcolm Campbell, noted automobile racing driver, was rescued by his pilot today after being stranded for forty hours in a desert of Southwest Africa with his life endangered by wild animals.

Halfway on a 250-mile flight to Walvis Bay from the Kalahari Desert, where they had been preying for gold, Sir Malcolm and his pilot, Fulford, were forced down by a damaged propeller.

Fulford flew alone to Luderitz for repairs and was unable to return for Sir Malcolm for nearly two days.

NATIONAL INSURANCE

Admiral of the Fleet Lord Beatty is one of those who believes that the greater is Britain's ability to defend herself and her seaborne trade the greater her world influence will be. That is axiomatic judging from all the experience of history. The defence forces of Britain have been starved for the last six or seven years. Britain has been occupied in making gestures of peace through disarmament and has been too preoccupied with other problems, external and internal, to realize how her security has become jeopardized. Lord Beatty reminds the nation that now credit has been restored the task lying ahead is to restore the defence forces.

In 1927 the expenditure on naval services was £58,000,000. Within six years a reduction of £26,000,000 has been made in this sum. The savings has been made at the expense of the security of the Empire. Britain's seaborne trade is valued at £4,000,000,000. Every day there are 2,000 ocean-carrying vessels and 1,000 coastal ships at sea carrying cargoes worth £100,000,000. The money spent on a navy is an insurance premium on this trade. Lord Beatty believes that Britain made a drastic mistake in adhering to the Treaty of London which imposed a limitation to a quota of cruisers, a quota entirely inadequate for the services required. In that treaty, he says, Britain accepted ratios of naval strength which left her on the edge of insecurity.

When the next naval conference is held Lord Beatty says that Britain should resist any alteration of existing ratios of naval strength to her detriment. Moreover, she must add to her cruiser strength. She must make arrangements for replacing her battle fleet. The replacement is postponed by the London Treaty until 1937 and Lord Beatty says it must not be postponed any longer. He does not believe in the argument that capital ships are obsolete and unnecessary but says that nothing has been devised, or even thought of, to take their place.

In support of his argument Lord Beatty says: "The sea communications of the Empire are exposed to naval attack in numerous areas of the world by any naval power in the world." The Navy cannot protect the British Isles from air attack by our neighbors, nor can the Royal Air Force protect our sea communications from naval attacks by any country. Both arms are therefore required; one is the complement of the other.

REGIMENTATION IN U.S.A.

Mr. John W. Davis, a staunch Democrat and ten years ago a candidate for the Presidency, does not believe in the virtues of the Rooseveltian Recovery Plan. The regimentation being practised he sees as destroying that personal liberty which Americans have been taught to hold as the most precious of earthly possessions. Mr. Davis is logical enough to understand that there are natural laws in the social and economic as well as in the physical worlds. He cannot make out how the law of supply and demand can be thwarted by price-fixing or experiments in the currency. "Those who bite on that rock," he says, "are sure to break their teeth."

Mr. Davis characterizes wisdom in government as the discovery of natural laws and the following of them—not in devising hasty experiments whereby these laws may be circumvented. It is not miracles that are expected from governments, but reason, common sense and reliance upon the past experience of mankind.

Mr. Davis' belief is that there should be less restraint on human activity, a freer exchange of goods and services with other nations instead of increased prohibitions. Moreover, he advocates more economy in government and lower not higher taxes. Then Mr. Davis says: "Every Socialist and every advocate of social discipline of a planned economy or of a nationalist regimentation—call it what you will—must answer in the end this question: Who is to sit in the driver's seat and hold the reins and whip? And the answer cannot be made in such vague collective terms as the State, the Government, or society, for these only move by human hands. Who are the men, gentlemen, you would set to rule over us?"

MENTAL REACTIONS

Some weeks ago a classified advertisement appeared in this newspaper for a typist for private work at a reasonable charge. It was stipulated that a good speller was essential. The advertisement was inserted for one issue only and 103 replies were received. It would appear from an analysis of the replies made by the advertiser that there is something distinctly lacking in our educational system. Only one applicant for the work gave all the information the advertiser expected, namely, qualifications, experience, facilities for doing the work and terms. Of the 103 applicants only some ten mentioned the payment expected; others merely said, "moderate," "what-ever satisfactory," "reasonable," etc. Only some ten, too, said whether or not they had typewriters. Only about 50 typed their replies. Nearly all asked for a telephone call or a personal interview, and some 75 of the applicants had the impression that the work required was permanent.

Now the advertisement mentioned work at a reasonable charge which would imply at once that it was piece work or typing by the hour. There could be no mistaking that where the English language is understood. The same advertiser had a previous experience of the ambiguity that prevails in so many minds. She advertised in The Colonist for a small cottage by the sea for two persons. On that occasion many dozens of replies were received from people who wanted to rent large houses in all parts of the city. There is no accounting for the processes of thought which lead to such ambiguity in understanding briefly put, plain and outright English. The experience of our advertiser is by no means unusual. There have been scores of similar instances and they all go to show a state of understanding that by no means tends to emphasize any general process of the application of logical reasoning to the interpretation of simple language.

SCHOOL-LEAVING AGE

The problem of youth is one engaging a good deal of attention in these latter years. The unemployment situation has made the problem a difficult one, but by no means as serious as some people think. What has aggravated the problem of youth more even than unemployment is the fact that women are now so largely engaged in gainful occupations. Somewhat curious remedies are being suggested for the solution of the problem. One of these is more education by means of raising the school age. The object of this solution is to keep youth off the labor market for a year or two longer than at present and to keep them off at the public expense. It is difficult to see how this move is affording any solution of the problem.

The aim of education is to attune minds to take advantage of the opportunities that life offers. It is not just to turn out an army of clerks upon a market already flooded. It should be to create desires of a far more catholic variety, and it is just a question what is gained by an extension in the school-leaving age. There are many people, not educationists, who believe that boys and girls after fifteen years of age are as well off in trying to make things, and in trying to buy and sell them, rather than sitting in a schoolroom under instructors whose experience of life, in the competitive world, says The London Sunday Chronicle, "is considerably less than that of the generality of mankind."

SECTION 98

Various radical organizations throughout the country have passed resolutions urging that Section 98 of the Criminal Code should be repealed. That Section, as has been repeatedly pointed out, is restrictive only in connection with the activities of those who want to preach or practise sedition. It has been shown how erroneously described as an effort to restrict free speech. It is such only to the extent that it provides punishment for those who would subvert government. The corollary of the movement to repeal Section 98 is that it is engineered by the friends of sedition. There is no other explanation. It is as axiomatic to favor repeal of Section 98 as it would be to advocate repealing the right of authority to invoke martial law in times of emergency. There must be safeguards affecting the sanctity of government by the will of the people. Section 98 is one of these. Those who favor its repeal must rest under the imputation of being friendly to seditious utterances and practices.

CANDLELIGHT

I used to love the candlelight,
The dancing flicker shed
All round about me every night
Before I went to bed;
I loved to watch it leap and shine,
The glimmer came and go,
And see in darkness, like a sign,
The halo's misty glow.

How many light their candles now?
How many? Very few.
But still some folks remember how
Enchantment once they knew,
When in the dim days of the past,
As twilight softly came,
Dream-magic over them was cast
By spell of candle-flame.
—Elizabeth Fleming, in The Glasgow Herald.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Quick-saltin', cheapies mountebanks—
Is to make sound men sick, and sick men kill.
—Massinger and Decker.

Hundreds of persons who believe they are "born statesmen," and possibly thousands of other persons who believe they are inspired economists, are making speeches elaborating complicated schemes for the relief of the oppressed multitudes and "lifting" the cloud of depression which doth so grievously afflict us all. Canada has quite as many inspired depression uplifters as any other country—at least in proportion to population. Dozens of the emancipators are making speeches and moving resolutions in the Parliament at Ottawa. We have our share of the "scientific" exponents in our own Legislature. And there are multitudes of the specialists expounding their doctrines throughout the whole of the country wherever they can gather audiences together. All is wrong with the world, and obviously they are the only people born into the world to set everything that is wrong right.

If these are the times that try men's souls, these are also the times when every orator who has the power of stirring up passions of emotion can get a hearing for remedies which appeal more to the emotions than to the divine gift of reason. It is said that the occasion always provides the necessary leader. When the Chosen People were afflicted with the oppression imposed by the heathen Egyptians, Moses was divinely chosen as their political agent and Joshua as their fighting captain. The difficulty which faced our wandering tribes was that instead of one Moses and one Joshua we have scores of leaders and many captains, and they all want to lead in by different ways to the land which is flowing with milk and honey. The situation reminds us of the story of the man who got lost in a labyrinth, and the farther he wandered the deeper he became involved in the endless passages. There must be a way out of the wilderness, but the job is to find that way.

While pondering over these things, we happened to notice a very striking observation by an individual who professed to know little about the science of government and less about the mysteries of economics. This cryptic remark was an abstract speculation as to how much quicker the business depression would have come to an end if there had been adopted so many recovery programmes to bring it to an end. This truly philosophic remark may have been inspired by the obvious truth that in some countries where business has been left to recover by its own natural resources there has been an obvious revival, whereas in the places where doctrinaires, or chateaux, or whatever they may be, have been floundering about and fusing with one sovereign remedy after another, the unfortunate subject of various kinds of treatment appears still to be suffering from the disease which is physically known as chronic anaemia.

Time has been described as the great physician. It is true that Time sometimes kills when he cures. But we venture to say that in the case of Canada the patient is not suffering from an incurable disease. There are signs of convalescence, if not yet of absolutely robust health, in the body of business, if not in the body politic. Therefore let us trust in the healing qualities of Time, and put aside brusquely all suggestions of the injection of quack remedies. There is a way out of the labyrinth of the depression, but we must find that way by patient investigation. There is no "short cut" to the promised land. All who butt their heads against that truth are not inspired leaders. They are either silly leaders or false prophets. They, of course, should not be so, as they were in the old barbarous days. Leave them in the hands of Time, and their fallacies will be exposed.

One especially interesting feature of the depression is the fact that while production has languished in many respects it has been particularly prolific in another respect. When fields are permitted to lie fallow, they almost always produce an abundant crop of weeds. The business and trade fields have been lying fallow for three or four years, but observe the bountiful crop of experts who have sprung out of the idle soil and have a sure and certain cure for all the economic ills in the body of commerce and trade and manufacture is heir to. Every quack is perched upon a rostrum and has a nostrum that if applied will speedily restore the ailing patient not only to immediate health but to health which will never again be afflicted with an ailment. And the ludicrous feature of the matter is that the public purse supplies the funds upon which all the multitude of quack salubrities. As Sir Walter Scott portrays the situation in one

THE INSPIRED BOOK

Sir,—In my previous letter I dealt with one of the indictments of the mystical "correspondents" against the Holy Scriptures. The other point I wish to touch is the following statement: "There are many stories recorded which are disgusting and repugnant to the ordinary human mind..."

One of the greatest proofs of the inspiration of the Divine record is the fact that the Bible is a book which is not only a source of comfort and inspiration to the millions of people who read it, but it is also a book which is a source of knowledge and wisdom to the millions of people who study it. It is a book which is a source of strength and courage to the millions of people who are in need of it. It is a book which is a source of hope and faith to the millions of people who are in despair. It is a book which is a source of love and mercy to the millions of people who are in need of it. It is a book which is a source of life and salvation to the millions of people who are in death. It is a book which is a source of peace and joy to the millions of people who are in sorrow. It is a book which is a source of wisdom and knowledge to the millions of people who are in ignorance. It is a book which is a source of power and authority to the millions of people who are in weakness. It is a book which is a source of glory and honor to the millions of people who are in dishonor. It is a book which is a source of life and salvation to the millions of people who are in death. It is a book which is a source of peace and joy to the millions of people who are in sorrow. It is a book which is a source of wisdom and knowledge to the millions of people who are in ignorance. It is a book which is a source of power and authority to the millions of people who are in weakness. It is a book which is a source of glory and honor to the millions of people who are in dishonor.

SAINT PATRICK

Sir,—With all possible deference to Mr. Robinson's letter on St. Patrick, I will suggest to him that it is St. Patrick, the Christian church in Britain (West) was an established fact. I am in the country away from books of reference, so memory must serve. The monks of St. David, Ignorance and Wales were sending missionaries to Ireland and elsewhere where St. Augustine (the great missionary) landed at Canterbury. St. Augustine, soon after his arrival in England, notes a Christian church in the West, and in writing to Pope Gregory of that time, notes a similar liturgy of the British bishops, but different "consecration."

I believe this to be unanswerable, because, truly, that Britain can boast, or reverse, some of the oldest points of Christianity. As to St. Patrick's early life there seems some doubt. Some say he was a son of a Roman, some that he was of Glendalough (old name), and the Scots even claim him. First-class historical scholarship, however, points to him as coming from the southwest of England. It doesn't really make a great deal of difference, all good men are missionaries, and I am prepared to allow the legend of his life. He is absolutely impossible to justify. One thing about saints and mystics nobody should boast of a monopoly in them. They should do so, if they would limit their influence. That, I suppose, is why my countrymen are silent.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 17, 1934)

Horse Accident—Louis Becker, son of Louis Becker, the well-known local resident, of Johnson Street, and another boy were horse-back riding on Yates Street last night at about 11:30 o'clock when a horse named "Buck" belonging to Louis Becker was thrown from his horse W. K. Jackson, who saw the accident, called out "Buck, stop!" and the horse, striking the ground with the middle of his back, he screamed out in agony and was seen to elevate his arm and leg, which quivered in the air for a few minutes. Finally he let them fall motionless. He was rescued home, where Dr. Trimble attended. He apparently was suffering from concussion.

School Appointment—Miss Mary R. Davidson has been appointed teacher of the fifth division of the boys' department of the public school in the place of Mrs. McNeil.

Improvements—The level of the sidewalks on Douglas Street between View and Yates Streets are being lowered. A portion of the work has already been done, but at one point considerable amount of work will have to be removed before the desired level is reached.

HEALING BILLS UNDER REVIEW

Chiropractors and Drugless Healers Discussed in Non-Party Debate

Arguments for and against private regulation of chiropractors and drugless healers were advanced in the Legislature, yesterday, in debate on companion bills presented with the assent of the Government but without its endorsement. At the afternoon sitting, D. W. Strachan (Liberal, Dewdney) said passage of the measures would open the door to a flood of quacks, and would not be in the best interests of the public. He recommended the setting of examination standards for existing practitioners by the Department of Education, in conjunction with the University of British Columbia.

WOULD DISTINGUISH

E. T. Kenney (Liberal, Skeena) said he would decide upon each bill on its merits, and would favor the chiropractic bill. Government in the past had conferred a moral right on practitioners in that pursuit of the callings had been permitted. The best thing to do now, he averred, was to make this sanction legal, and bring some regulation to bear upon existing practices. L. A. Hannan (Liberal, Comox) adjourned the debate on the chiropractic bill. Dr. J. J. Gillis (Liberal, Yale) re-opened the debate, heading measure what he had said previously in reference to the chiropractic bill. After thirty-two years in medicine, he would say unhesitatingly that there was no real healing virtue in either calling, and had there been, the medical profession would have taken them years ago. Touching on future prospects of socialized medicine, E. E. Winch (C.P.F., Burnaby) demanded unrestricted access to anything that offered a promise of health.

ERIN'S OWN

This, the dear little shamrock
That makes the heart thrill,
That bedews the rapt eye
Of the wanderer still.
'Tis the darling of Ireland,
Whose fairy-like sheen,
Makes Erin an Eden
Of emerald green!
'Tis the symbol of sunshine,
Of hope's purest ray;
Of a faith that sheds beauty
On life's chequered way.
'Tis the shield of the righteous,
Priest, prophet and saint:
As wine to the thirsty,
And balm to the faint.
What, though England her roses
Can boast, and her thistles
And Scotland her thistle
In every far coast,
What, though Wales' loyal chieftains
Sing the praises of their leek,
Still dearer to Erin
Her shamrock so meek!
—Jeanne Valdez.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

SUPER-PSYCHIC BIDDING AND BAD DEFENCE
The bidding and play of today's hand teach practically nothing except possibly what not to do. The various bids made by everyone but the declarer, which is the only absolutely impossible to justify. As for the subsequent defence, which enabled the declarer to fulfill the contract, the West player does deserve some sympathy as his play was due not to a foolish decision but merely to an unfortunate guess.

TOMORROW'S HAND

Against a spade opening by East, how can North make five-odd in hearts on the hand below?

West, dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

1. A semi-psychic. The hand is not good enough for a second opening bid and, in my opinion, is too strong for a psychic.

2. Another would-be brilliant psychic.

3. East should redouble. However, it is probable that the East player suspected his partner's bid as being not exactly sound.

4. The first normal bid of the auction.

5. North naturally must rescue. Quite properly feeling that he has misled his partner by his previous takeout double.

6. South admittedly was quite bewildered at this point. Not knowing tomorrow's article.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

Inquiry Officer for Imperial Airways Is Queried Frequently

Passengers Contemplating Air Voyages For First Time Ask Numerous Questions Concerning Flights and Accommodation on Planes

"What do you find most interesting about your work?" This question, put the other day to the inquiry officer, who has just been appointed by Imperial Airways to deal with the queries concerning air transport, which now flow in to the airway terminus, London, elicited the following prompt reply: "From my point of view the first interest—and I think one of the most useful features of my work—lies in answering the questions of those passengers who are about to make an air journey for the first time. So many points occur to them, and they are so appreciative of the help one can give them."

"Many such intending air voyagers come up to me and say: 'I'm afraid I've no head for heights. I don't feel giddy up in the air?'"

ARE REASSURED

"On this point I am soon able to reassure them. I tell them that when they look down from a cliff or tall building, it is the fact that their eyes follow the line of the cliff or building downward, which gives them an uncomfortable feeling. This descending line forms a direct link between them and the ground below, emphasizing the fact that they are at a height; and it is this which makes them feel giddy. Remove that connecting link, as one does in an airplane, and the discomfort vanishes. To look down from an air saloon window is, in fact, an entirely different matter. You are not joined to the earth in any way. There is nothing to give you any direct suggestion of height. You are simply poised up there aloft, with the earth stretching in a vast panorama below. Your eyes, in a word, have no means of judging your height, and there is nothing, therefore, that can make you giddy."

"Isn't it noisy and uncomfortable?" is another question I am still asked, fairly often, by travelers who have never flown before.

DRAWN COMPARISON

"Here I find it effective to draw a comparison between air travel and the early days of railway transport. I remind them of the first trains in which passengers jolted along in open trucks, with cinders from the engine blowing back in their faces. Then I point out the luxury of present-day railway travel. After which I explain that there is as great a contrast between pioneer passenger planes, and our air-liners of today, as between the first railway trains and the modern Pullman. This interests my inquirers, and I go on to point out that, whereas the first plane on the service to Paris carried two passengers in a tiny cabin, with an engine roaring only a few feet away, the modern air liner has saloons as large and luxurious as those of a Pullman train, the engines being mounted out on the wings, and which make it unnecessary to raise one's voice when talking even if the machine is flying at high speed."

As might be expected, passengers who are about to make a distance flight for the first time, want to know all about the hotels and rest houses in which they are to sleep at their night halts, and I find that it interests them enormously to learn how, even at points out in the desert, or in African jungles, we have commodious rest houses, with expert staffs, at which one can rely upon finding all the amenities one would expect in the heart of modern cities. While, in fact, one is drinking a cocktail at an African rest house one can hear the wild animals in the neighbouring jungle; or at one of the air halts along the Persian Gulf you stroll out after dinner to a camel caravan plodding noiselessly across the desert.

ALL COMFORTS, TOO

"Only the other day I was going over all such points as these with a business man who had hurried in to ask me about the time schedules and other details of an urgent trip he proposed to make. 'What it amounts to, after listening to my explanations, is that one obtains all the speed of flying, with the hours, days, and weeks it saves, and the novel experience, with provident staffs, at which one can rely upon finding all the amenities one would expect in the heart of modern cities. While, in fact, one is drinking a cocktail at an African rest house one can hear the wild animals in the neighbouring jungle; or at one of the air halts along the Persian Gulf you stroll out after dinner to a camel caravan plodding noiselessly across the desert.'

Eastern and Western Garb

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA MEET

Canadian Pacific Liners Greet Each Other on China Coast

VANCOUVER, March 16.—The Canadian Pacific flagships, Empress of Britain, on her third world cruise, greeted her Pacific sister, the Empress of Russia, when the two white liners passed about midway between Manila and Hongkong, about noon, yesterday. This would make it about 8 o'clock in the evening, Pacific standard time.

From the bridge of the 42,500-ton Empress of Britain, Capt. J. S. Latta, commander of the Canadian Pacific fleet, gave greeting to Capt. A. J. Hosken, commander of the Empress of Russia, as the ships passed comparatively close.

The Empress of Britain, which sailed from Manila, Wednesday, is due in Hongkong tonight, while the Empress of Russia, which sailed from Hongkong Wednesday night, is due in Manila on her regular Pacific run tonight.

Pacific Coast residents will have their chance to see the world-cruising Empress of Britain at San Francisco, where she arrives from Honolulu, April 26, and at Los Angeles, where she arrives April 28, sailing April 29 for Panama Canal ports, Havana, New York, and Southampton. To date, numerous passengers have been booked from Pacific Coast ports for Havana and Southampton to accompany the big cruise ship on the last lap of her world-stirring itinerary of 130 days' sailing to thirty-three ports.

Salmon Trap Fees Will Go Up, Seine Licences Go Down

Fisheries Committee Recommending Changes in Act for Consideration of Present Session of Legislature — Must Keep Record

Important amendments to the Fisheries Act will be brought down this session, it was learned when the fisheries committee met yesterday.

Licence fees on traps will be increased from $25 to $100, while fees on salmon seines will be reduced from $50 to $25 and gill-nets will pay $2.50, instead of $5 for their licences.

Another clause in the bill gives the fisheries commissioner power to impose a canner's licence fee on plants which are maintained for the purpose of making, repairing, servicing and storing gill-nets, or which are used for the boarding or lodging of fishermen during the weekly close seasons. It was explained that in some districts where one firm operated three or more canneries, operations were confined to one plant, thus evading payment of canner's licence fees for the others, which, however, were an integral part of the industry. The amendment will place all such premises under the head of operating canneries.

LICENCE FEES

The question of the same licence fees for all canneries, which now prevails, is being given consideration, it was stated, and the department was in receipt of many suggestions, one for a sliding scale according to the size of the plant. This matter will be investigated from all angles. Shellfish, dockfish and fish offal plants will also pay a fee prescribed by the regulations instead of a tax as now prevails. Buyers of fresh fish, except canners, salter, etc., also will come under this provision.

An important section of the bill compels all plants to keep a record and report to the department annually covering the operations of gill-nets, purse-seines, drag-seines, and trap-nets.

FOREIGN SALTERIES

Dry herring salteries, controlled by Orientals, came in for some discussion. It was explained that licences were issued on the understanding that one-half of the employees should be whites, or Indians. This provision was not being lived up to, and steps would be taken to enforce the regulation.

There was some difference of opinion as to the effect of operation of herring reduction plants on salmon fisheries. The Dominion biologists and fishery authorities were of the opinion that the supply of herring would not be substantially decreased by operations of these plants, while fishermen, on the other hand, feared diminished supplies would materially affect the salmon catch. Trollers claim that when herring are disturbed they change their spawning grounds and may not return for years. The matter is being given closest investigation and it was stated a decision would soon be made.

ENDEAVOR IS ABOUT READY

Challenger for America's Cup Will Be Launched Month Hence

(Copyright, 1934, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)
LONDON, March 16.—The Endeavor, T. O. M. Sopwith's American cup challenger, will be launched April 14 from the yard of Camper & Nicholson, Gosport. Rapid progress has been made in building the yacht. Her steel hull is plated and the work of decking her is in hand.

The Endeavor has exceptionally graceful lines which promise a high speed. Her 168-foot steel mast is being built up sectionally in a rigid, house-shaped form, especially lengthened for the construction of the mast of Sir Thomas Lipton's last challenger, Shamrock V.

Great care is being taken with design of the Endeavor's sails. The sign of the Endeavor's sails, they are being made by Ratsey & Lapthorn, whose canvas is carried by most crack racing boats, both British and American, and who are making the sails for the Endeavor at their New York establishment.

Before the Endeavor's sails were made with fully-rigged models of the yacht. The purpose of the tests was to discover the best sail design for speed at varying degrees of wind force.

DAUGHTER HAD CRYING SPELLS

"Nerves" Brought On by Worrying

AFTER KRUSCHEN
"A DIFFERENT GIRL"

A mother writes:—"Early this spring my eighteen-year-old daughter had a nervous breakdown. She had crying spells and fits of the blues. So I decided to give Kruschen Salts a trial, starting with a large teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning, and the little daily dose in her tea for lunch and supper. In less than a week the crying spells had stopped and she began to sleep better. That was three months ago. To-day she is full of pep, and sleeps and eats well. She is a different girl. I am still giving her the little daily dose."—(Mrs. M. L.)

The commonest cause of depression is partial constipation—an insidious complaint, because the sufferer is seldom aware of it. It means the gradual accumulation of body poisons which dull the mind, damp the spirits, sap the nervous strength and lower the whole vitality.

A FREE TRIAL OFFER OF KRUSCHEN

Try Kruschen now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it possible for you to receive our claims for yourself. Ask your druggist for the free "GIANT" package. It contains of our regular 75c bottle together with a separate trial bottle, which you will use for one week. Upon the trial bottle first, and then, if not entirely satisfied, return it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorized to return your 75c. immediately after you have used the trial bottle. No charge at our expense. What could be fairer? Manufactured by E. CRITCHFIELD, Ltd., Manchester, England. (Established 1915).

Kruschen Salts make constipation impossible. They help the liver and kidneys to perform their natural duties in a natural way; they clear away gently, but completely, all poisonous waste matter, and ensure an uncontaminated blood stream. Therefore, if you keep to Kruschen, you need never know the meaning of melancholy; never feel "nervy" or depressed.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

Census Table Presents Church Racial Origins

Dominion Returns Show Irish and Scottish Pre-dominance in United Church of Canada, Which Also Has Two-Thirds as Many English as Anglican Body

The statement made by Rev. R. T. Albert Moore, moderator of the United Church of Canada, during his recent visit here, that there are more persons of Irish origin belonging to the United Church than to the Roman Catholic Church; more Scottish people connected with his church than with the Presbyterian; and two-thirds as many English as adhere to the Anglican communion is borne out by census statistics published in The Canadian Churchman.

The census department has issued a table showing the number of each racial origin found in the principal religious in Canada. These races are the English, Irish, Scottish, French, German, Ukrainian, Dutch, and Negro.

The religious tabulated are also listed in number, Anglican, Baptist, Lutheran, Menonites, Evangelical Association, Greek Orthodox, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United Church.

Of the English race the Anglicans, as might be expected, lead with 1,127,781, the United Church coming next with 863,807, followed by the Baptists with 237,753, Presbyterians with 195,349 and Roman Catholics with 177,634.

Something of a surprise comes with the figures regarding the Irish race. Only 384,748 of these are Roman Catholics, while the United Church is credited with 395,366, or 10,600 more.

Naturally the United Church and the Presbyterian claim the large majority of Scots, the former being listed with 500,778 and the latter with 460,115. The Anglicans have 137,713, the Roman Catholics 126,486, the Baptists 72,240 and the Lutherans 2,636.

The French race totals 292,990, of whom 2,849,096 belong to the

What Today Means

"FISCS"

If March 17 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 to 8 a.m., from 10 to 11 a.m. and from 2 to 3 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 10 a.m., from 4 to 5 p.m. and from 11 p.m. to midnight.

If March 17 is your birthday, your life will be happier if you curb any tendency of feeling skeptical about the sincerity of the professions of friendship your friends make to you. Doubting Thomas was a very unhappy chap. Do not emulate his example. It might be advisable never to form an opinion of a person's true worth by their external appearance. Some of the sweetest oranges have rust-coated skins. The overly suave individual, with marvellously ingratiating manners, and a Beau Brummel in personal appearance, may be capable of producing the greatest amount of discord and unhappiness. It is a mighty good rule to judge people by their actions and not by their looks. The child born on March 17, when it reaches its teens, should be taught to use discrimination in selecting its playmates. There is no question but that we are often judged by the people with whom we associate. A child's companions can exercise a tremendous influence over its entire future life. A child is very impressionable, and its behavior, reasoning, and manners are frequently fashioned after those with whom it is thrown into daily contact. The woman born on March 17 will be successful in love, if she will realize that none of us are immune from faults, and that minor ones must be condoned or corrected by gentle persuasion. Irritable, or condemnatory comments only agitate and create bitterness. A woman's gentleness can accomplish a hundred times more than a man's gruffness will in trying to have advice accepted. A wise woman knows how to get desired results by suggestions, instead of forcibly by demands. It is also a part of wisdom to consider carefully both sides of an argument, and the one that admits they are wrong, gains the other person's respect and confidence, if they know the admission is prompted by a desire to be fair. The man born on March 17 is, as a rule, an influence for good. He will find it advantageous if he makes it a daily practice to keep posted on the current events of the day. Being held in high esteem by his fellow workers, he has unlimited opportunity to be an important factor in their lives by setting them exemplary models to follow. People born on March 17 may find it beneficial to remember: "He who teaches, learns," for they are the type that inspires confidence, and their advice is often sought. They should take an active interest in educational and civic work. It might be well for them to remember: "Anger is a brief madness," and make up their minds not to indulge in temperamental explosions. BUILDING COLLAPSES KILLING TWENTY-SEVEN BEIRUT, Syria, March 15 (AP).—Workers had recovered twenty-seven bodies, today, from the ruins of an old three-story building, which collapsed Wednesday. Of the many injured in the fall of the structure, which contained a hotel and a cafe, twelve were seriously hurt. DIED IN TORONTO TORONTO, March 15 (CP).—Margaret Ireland, widow of Walter Ireland, of Carberry, Man., and mother of Mrs. R. V. Eaton, of Toronto, died at the home of her son, here, today. She was seventy-one. Surviving her are her son, two daughters and two sisters, Misses Jessie and Belle Nichol, Victoria.

B.C. BASKETBALL SERIES TO OPEN HERE TONIGHT

Oak Bay XI Trims Esquimalt 6 to 0 in Fragments Soccer

Reach Final of Annual Schools' Football Competition With Easy Victory — Featherstone Nets Three Goals and Brown Gets Pair

Rushing in four goals in the first twenty minutes of play and dominating the game from then on with strong offensive and defensive work, Oak Bay reached the final of the Fragments Cup competition, yesterday afternoon, by blanking Esquimalt in the annual schools' soccer series, at the Oak Bay Park, 6-0. The winners will meet the survivors of the replay match carded for Monday afternoon on the same pitch, between Saanich and Victoria for the silverware. The latter two eleven played a 1-1 draw in the opening fixture, after two five-minute overtime periods.

Oak Bay's squad went out from the opening whistle and ran in a pair of markers before the young Esquimalt footballers seemed to realize the game was on. The winners continued the pressure and drove in two more to take a substantial lead. Oak Bay played better combination and seemed to have a keener knowledge of the game than their opponents. Esquimalt was relying on the kick and rush type of soccer, which failed to get them anywhere against Oak Bay's steady intermediate rank and back division.

TAKE BIG LEAD
Shortly after the whistle, Featherstone, a stocky little centre forward, opened the scoring with a beautiful free from close quarters. Only a few minutes more had elapsed when the same player drove in the second goal on a combination attack. The third goal came five minutes later, when Brown broke through with Featherstone and the former beat Esquimalt's goalie, while a left-footer from well inside the penalty area. With the ball a little more than half over, Brown added goal No. 4, when he took Featherstone's pass close in and scored with a lightning shot. A fast breakaway gave Oak Bay this goal.

Esquimalt attempted several offensives, but the kicking of Smart, McKay and McGregor kept them from getting in close enough to score. The only shot Esquimalt had at the goal sailed well over the bar. Not long before the period ended, Oak Bay registered their fifth goal, when Esquimalt's goalie attempted to clear a cross from Jeanneret, the ball striking one of his own players and rebounding between the posts. Oak Bay led at the interval, 5-0.

FINAL GOAL
Play went up and down the field most of the time in the second half, with Oak Bay still having the edge. Esquimalt fought gamely to avoid a whitewashing, but to no avail. Fair had tough luck with a beautiful shot, the ball hitting the upright and bounding out, while Harman hit the crossbar with a fine effort, but the leather came straight down and was finally cleared. Just before the finish, Featherstone took Jeanneret's cross well in the goal area for the final tally of the match.

Davies handled the whistle and teams follow:
Esquimalt — Sedger, Ackerman, Robertson, Williams, Cooper, Carter, Durand, Peaknot, Morton, Bishop and Waldron.
Oak Bay — Carruthers (High School), Smart (McGregor, McKay), Fields (St. Michael's), Alexander (St. Michael's), Jeanneret (Cranleigh), Harman (Cranleigh), Featherstone (Glen Lyn), Brown (Monterey), Fair (Willows).

KIMBERLEY ALL READY FOR REGINA
B.C. Champions and Saskatchewan to Meet in Western Canada Final
REGINA, March 16 (CP).—Headed by Jack Pratt, one-time Boston, Portland and Philadelphia defence ace, who takes over the role of coach, manager and what-else a hockey team needs, Kimberley Dynamiters, monarchs of the Far West in senior circles, hopped off the train here tonight, after a twenty-four hour trip from Calgary.

"Feeling fine and tickled to find cold weather and keen ice," was the way Pratt put it as he herded his athletes up to see the Pais-Wesley junior game at the stadium. Dynamiters take on the surprising Regina Aces tomorrow night in the first of two games to decide the Western Allan Cup final.

The visitors are in good shape despite recent travelling. Hugo Mackle has a bad cut over one eye, but is able to take his place on the line-up. ROWING CLUB MEMBER LOST IN ACCIDENT

Charles Bailey Killed in North—Was Great Oarsmen in Nineties

J.B.A.A. lost one of its charter members of forty years ago yesterday, when it learned here that Charles Bailey was killed near Fairbanks, Alaska, by a whirling propeller blade. The late Mr. Bailey was prominent in many of the club's activities, especially in rowing, basketball and baseball. At last night's oarsmen's dinner, at the J.B.A.A., several old-timers referred to the sterling qualities of the late member, and paid glowing tributes to the sportsmanship he had shown in the various lines of athletics in which he played.

Mr. Bailey was a member of the J.B.A.A. intermediate four, which won the Coast championship at Portland in the nineties. Other members of the crew were: Walter Adams, George Watson and Charlie McNeil. This band of oarsmen was one of the best intermediate squads in the club and swept through the toughest kind of opposition from several Coast cities in winning the championship. Mr. Bailey was also a great basketball player, being a prominent member of some of the earliest teams that represented the club and played here for several years.

WENT TO KLONDIKE
During the early days of the Klondike rush, Mr. Bailey left Victoria for Alaska, and for some years sought his fortune in the North. He is a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. N. Moore, 1715 Chambers Street. Born in Yale, Mr. Bailey came to Victoria as a young man. He received his early education in the Central School and Victoria High School.

He had resided in Fairbanks for many years. Mr. Bailey is survived by his widow, three brothers, Hal, George, and Ashcroft, and two sisters, Mrs. F. Sinnott and Mrs. Smith, Clinton.

RIBBONS TO MEET PROVINCE CAGERS IN FIRST TUSSLE

Dominion Titleholders to Start Defence of Provincial Crown Against Smart Mainland Squad at High Gymnasium—Locals Confident—T. Macedo and D. McIntyre to Referee

Trained to a fine point, confident, and with all the advantages in their favor, Blue Ribbons, monarchs of Canadian basketball, will go gunning for their second straight British Columbia men's senior "A" championship (tonight, at the Victoria High School gymnasium, when they tackle Vancouver Province, Mainland winners, in the first of a three-out-of-five-game series. The squads are on edge, and a packed house is expected to witness a thrilling, nerve-racking battle from whistle to whistle. The preliminary will see Kingham & O'Leary and Y.M.C.A., two Sunday School League quintettes, fighting it out in the consolation cup final, starting at 7:45 o'clock.

With the naming of the two referees, final plans were completed, yesterday by the provincial authorities for the opening fixture of the series. Secretary Walter Harwick, of Vancouver, has chosen Tommy Macedo, popular local arbiter, and Doug McIntyre, of Vancouver, to handle the first match. Up to yesterday there was some doubt as to who would be in charge of the game, it being rumored that an American official would be imported from Seattle, but this was wiped out when Harwick's decision was received in the city.

TOURNEY GREAT HELP
Although the Ribbons suffered defeat in the recent Northwest tournament in Seattle at the hands of Gilmore Oil, they gained a wealth of knowledge from the meet and will lose some of it at the Province quintette when the run sends the squads into battle. On the eve of the game, Manager Ernie Cook and his chief assistant, Tommy Little, reported the Dominion champs to be in fine shape. Light workouts have been the Ribbons' training, and two six-day journeys, and the team will march on the court at full strength.

Their early-season defeat of the Province in an exhibition game on the local floor by a 31-19 score, makes the locals more confident of hurrying the visiting newspaper crew in the British Columbia final line of attack.

LOCAL SQUAD
"Chuck" Chapman, giant red-headed guard and captain, and hero of the Dominion series, will take up his usual position as guard, with either Joe Ross or Doug Peden as his mate. One thing is certain, Art Chapman, one of the smartest tip-off players in the Northwest, will be at the pivot position. Just who will be flanking him is not known. Manager Cook will select the forwards from Albert "Red" Martin, George Robertson, Johnny Craig, Al Imrie, Tommy Forbes and Jack Caddell. There is a possibility that Peden may open on the front line of attack.

DOUBLES GAMES ARE HIGHLIGHT
Keen Competition Continues to Dominate Carpet Bowling Meet at Willows
Mr. and Mrs. Cruickshank took the main attraction from Mrs. Bryant and Colin in the mixed doubles feature in the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling championships, last night, at the Willows. The winners were forced to go an extra end to take a 21-18 decision. Miss Pomeroy and A. Lambie took a good match from Mrs. Jackson and A. Manson, 22-14, while in the men's doubles, Moody and Westcott, of Forsters, defeated Grimes and Rendall, of Esquimalt, after some fine bowling, 34-16.

The Lake Hill Cougars, with Cockerill as skip, won the Little & Taylor Cup by doubling the A.O.F. Robin Hood squad, with Bridge as skip, by a 20-13 score. No matches are scheduled tonight, but the tournament will be resumed Monday.

Results and Monday's draw follow:

Remember When
(Twenty-Five Years Ago)
Frank Baylis has agreed to accept the challenge of Jack and Leo Sweeney for a five mile contest on condition that the latter start at scratch, and that the match takes place on Monday, 27. This doesn't satisfy the Sweeney brothers. They object to the date, claiming that it doesn't give them time to train, and they think that they should meet the champion on a relay, that is that one should cover two and a half miles and the other a similar distance. If Baylis will agree to meet the Sweeney brothers on such a basis on Good Friday, that is what they can assure him that handsome silver cup will be hung up. Should they win, then they will not lay claim to a relay, that is what they will want to meet Baylis later at scratch, the victors then taking possession of the trophy.

California's crack soccer team is not likely to be seen here in an exhibition match with Victoria West on Good Friday. The V.W.A.A. at a meeting held the other evening, instructed their secretary to write Will Ellis, of Vancouver, who is managing the Southwestern tour of the Northwest, agreeing to put up the sum of $100 guarantee which he demanded in order to allow the visitors to play here on the date set. However, word comes from Vancouver that California will find it impossible to play here Good Friday, because other arrangements have been made.

Before 10,000 spectators at Madison Square Garden in New York, a large majority of whom were compatriots, Dorando Pietri, the little Italian, defeated Johnny Hayes in a match for marathon supremacy. The race was at the regulation distance, 26 miles and 385 yards, and was run over a ten-lap track. Both men were in excellent condition. From the starter's gun to the end the Italian led the American. In the seventeenth mile, Dorando started a heart-breaking sprint which Hayes was unable to follow, and before half a mile had been run the foreigner had gained a lap. From then on the Italian set a fast pace and won by a comfortable margin, despite Hayes' gallant effort to overtake him.

ROWING CLUB MEMBER LOST IN ACCIDENT

Charles Bailey Killed in North—Was Great Oarsmen in Nineties

J.B.A.A. lost one of its charter members of forty years ago yesterday, when it learned here that Charles Bailey was killed near Fairbanks, Alaska, by a whirling propeller blade. The late Mr. Bailey was prominent in many of the club's activities, especially in rowing, basketball and baseball. At last night's oarsmen's dinner, at the J.B.A.A., several old-timers referred to the sterling qualities of the late member, and paid glowing tributes to the sportsmanship he had shown in the various lines of athletics in which he played.

Mr. Bailey was a member of the J.B.A.A. intermediate four, which won the Coast championship at Portland in the nineties. Other members of the crew were: Walter Adams, George Watson and Charlie McNeil. This band of oarsmen was one of the best intermediate squads in the club and swept through the toughest kind of opposition from several Coast cities in winning the championship. Mr. Bailey was also a great basketball player, being a prominent member of some of the earliest teams that represented the club and played here for several years.

WENT TO KLONDIKE
During the early days of the Klondike rush, Mr. Bailey left Victoria for Alaska, and for some years sought his fortune in the North. He is a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. N. Moore, 1715 Chambers Street. Born in Yale, Mr. Bailey came to Victoria as a young man. He received his early education in the Central School and Victoria High School.

He had resided in Fairbanks for many years. Mr. Bailey is survived by his widow, three brothers, Hal, George, and Ashcroft, and two sisters, Mrs. F. Sinnott and Mrs. Smith, Clinton.

Vancouver and Calgary Will Meet in First Game Sunday at Seattle
PORTLAND, March 16 (AP).—There will be no change in arrangements for the championship series between Vancouver and Calgary in the Northwestern Hockey League, Dr. Gordon B. Leitch, league president, announced here today.

There had been some talk among league representatives in the North that the entire series should be moved to Vancouver because of scanty attendance at Seattle, last night.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE CREWS TO MEET TODAY

Huge Throng Will Watch Renewal of Century-Old Race

Light Blues Strong Favorites to Defeat Dark Blues Again—Crews Wind Up Four-Month Training Grind With Brief Outings—Big Crowds Arriving in London

LONDON, March 16 (CP).—The advance hordes of under-graduates from Oxford and Cambridge and of graduates from all parts of the country poured into London today for the renewal of the century-old battle of the "Blues" on the Thames tomorrow afternoon.

Probably 500,000 persons will mass along the 4-1/4 mile stretch of the river from Putney to Mortlake when the rival eights, with Cambridge strong favorites to run up an eleventh consecutive victory, get away on the gruelling journey.

While pre-race celebrations were being held, the big varsity crews retired early. They wound up the four-month training grind today with brief outings.

LYN LARRY AND DICKEY SIGNED UP

Last of Yankee Holdouts Come to Terms—Detroit Tigers Showing Pep

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (AP).—The last of the New York Yankees holdouts capitulated today when Lyn Larry, infielder, came to terms shortly after Bill Dickey, the hard-hitting backstop, accepted a compromise for the 1934 season.

Both players reached an agreement quickly with Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees. No terms were disclosed in either case.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 16.—It is divulging no secret to say the faint buzzing of the pennant bee already has been heard in the Spring training lair of Detroit Tigers.

The sound may be deceptive or the bee disappointed. Even with allowance for a little of both, there is one good, substantial black-haired reason for being convinced the Tigers are already fully 25 per cent improved over 1933.

The reason is Gordon Stanley (Mickey) Cochrane, successor to Bucky Harris as manager.

Cochrane's inspiration. The three prime factors which make the Bengals look like a much better ball club this Spring—more pep, more power and stronger pitching—all have their foundation in the personal playing ability and leadership of Cochrane.

Cochrane traded a young and highly-regarded outfielder, Jonathan Stone, to Washington for Goose Goslin, a fading veteran, with one big thought in mind—to get more clean-up punch and a play accustomed to the championship life.

Cochrane's alternative choices for third base now are Marvin Owen, whose health is doubtful, and Herman Clifford, a flashy recruit from the Beaumont (Texas) farm of the Tigers.

BRADENTON, Fla.—Jim Winford, one of the three Columbus pitching recruits with St. Louis Cardinals, will have his first chance to see what he can do against major league opposition, when the Red Birds meet New York Giants at Miami Beach, Saturday.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Hack Wilson had better get to the Brooklyn Dodgers' training camp soon, or he won't have a job. Len Korneck is playing so well that Manager Casey Stengel thinks he'll be the Dodgers' regular centre-fielder.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Joe McCarthy, manager of New York Yankees, has his fingers crossed for Vernon Gomes's first real workout seemed almost too good to be true.

The southpaw pitched four innings of an extra-inning game yesterday, allowed two hits and fanned seven men, five in succession.

J.B.A.A. oarsmen past and present, along with a large number of new members, attended the dinner held at the club's headquarters, at the Gorge, last night. Close to 150 attended, and stories of the rowing battles of many years ago were exchanged at the banquet table. Citizens of every walk of life sat side by side, and one of the most successful functions staged at the club for several years took place.

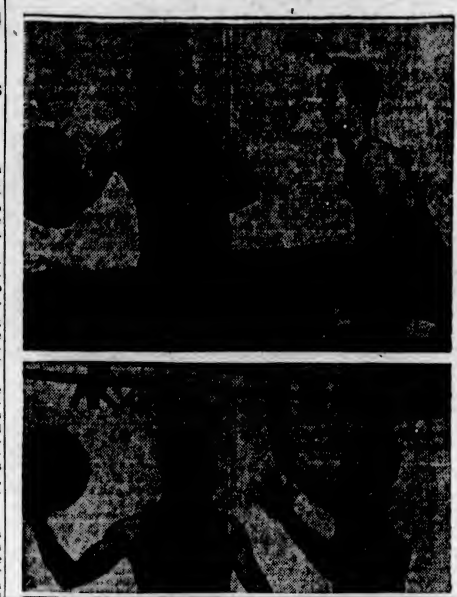

Secretary A. J. Fournier announced that the new junior oarsmen had enrolled and would soon be preparing for the first training session. The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. Goddard, Irene Williams, Ed Newman, Ethel Saunders, Pat Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fournier, Mrs. M. Fournier and Tom Kelway.

COACH SPEAKS
Speakers were numerous during the evening. President R. P. Taylor occupied the chair and welcomed the members and guests. Dan Moore, who was recently appointed senior coach, succeeding the late Dan O'Sullivan, stated it would be a hard assignment to make the same showing as his predecessor, but that he would give his best efforts, and hoped to receive the co-

Colonist Cagers Will Journey to Vancouver Today

COACH Doc Sturdy and his Colonist basketball squad, city and Vancouver Island men's senior "B" champions, will head for the Mainland this afternoon, where they will battle the B.C. Telephone for the British Columbia Coast title tonight at the King Edward High School Gymnasium. It will be a sudden-death game, the winners of which will journey to the Interior next week to play in the provincial final. The preliminary game will see the Vancouver Province women playing an exhibition with an all-star squad. The Colonist team will take the following players: Wally Stipe, Frank Elliott, Al Smith, Alex McKeachie, Lloyd Jones, Gordon Moore, Stan Miles, Bill Clarke and Gordie Scott.

Basketball Fundamentals—Hook Pass Hard to Block So Practise This Play

(Editor's Note. This is another of a series of stories on how basketball should be played.)

Written for Central Press Canadian and The Colonist
By JACK LIVERETT

There are a number of passes designed especially for passing the ball when closely guarded, just as there are a number of shots for caging the ball under similar pressure. The hook is used as either a pass or a shot, but much more frequently as a pass than as a shot.

The hook is very difficult to block. The best defensive player can hope to do is to raise one arm up high and extend the other out to the side in event the passer happens to be only taking a hook and actually intending another type of pass.

The defensive player in the accompanying moving picture sequence of the hook pass (or shot) because the technique is practically the same for both, is doing the best any guard could under the operation of the members and oarsmen.

Other speakers were W. O. Moresby, B. O. Nicholas, W. H. Kinsman, Rev. Aker, Charles Geiger, Charles McNeil, E. S. Cox, George Simpson, Ken Hughes and Max Billingsley. Numerous letters were received from others who were unable to be present, including Mayor David Leeming, Reeve Alex Lockley, Reeve William Crouch and Major Molson.

DIVOT DUST
BY COLONEL BOGEY

PLAYING THE WRONG BALL
The rules of golf committee has tightened up on the player who mistakes the ball of someone else for his own and unfortunately plays a stroke before he discovers his error. However, the committee has allowed for errors which might take place in playing in and from a hazard.

The rules now in effect, states: Match play, Rule 20 (2)—If a player plays a stroke with the ball of anyone not engaged in the match, and the mistake be discovered and intimated to his opponent before the opponent has played his next stroke he shall be no penalty. If, however, the opponent has played his next stroke before the mistake is discovered, the player's side shall lose the hole.

There is no change in the rule covering the playing of opponent's ball in error. The penalty may be cancelled by the opponent playing out the hole with the player's ball, or if the mistake be due to wrong information given to player by opponent or his caddy, there is no penalty.

In medal play, the rule concerning play with the wrong ball is stringent. The player must hole out with his own ball at every hole under penalty of disqualification. If a competitor in medal play plays a stroke or strokes outside of a hazard with a ball other than his own, he incurs a penalty of two strokes. He must then play his own ball or be disqualified.

This penalty is lightened in the case of play in a hazard. In a hazard, a medal player may play a stroke or strokes with a ball other than his own, but so long as the mistake is discovered before he has played a stroke with the wrong ball from outside the limits of the hazard he incurs no penalty, provided he then plays his own ball. Of course, if he does not find and play his own ball, he incurs the penalty of disqualification.

Another penalty which has been increased, is that incurred when a player's ball strikes himself, his caddy or his clubs. In match play, if a player's ball strikes himself, his partner or either of their caddies or their clubs, his side loses the hole. In medal play, if the player's ball strikes the player himself, or his caddy or his clubs, he incurs a penalty of two strokes.

In match play, if an opponent or his caddy or his clubs interfere with a player's ball, the opponent's side loses the hole, except in the case of a ball accidentally moved in searching for it; a ball accidentally moved when both balls lie within a cup length of each other, and not on the putting green, and a ball which is touched in searching for it in long grass, sand, etc.

In medal play, if a competitor's ball strikes or is stopped by another ball, or his caddy or his clubs, that is a rub of the green, and the ball must be played from where it lies, except in case of a ball played from within twenty yards of hole and striking person standing at the hole. If a medal player's ball, which is at rest, is accidentally moved by another competitor or his caddy or his clubs or by any outside agency except wind, the player is required to place a ball as near as possible to the spot where it lay. A "rub of the green" incidentally occurs when a ball in motion is stopped or deflected by and agency outside the match. The ball must be played where it lies.

Lethbridge Hoop Team Takes Lead Over Union Jacks

McKittrick Wins From Langdon in Close Cue Match

Running off a thirty-seven break and then potting the red ball, A. McKittrick took a close decision from C. Langdon in the city billiards championship last night at the Metropolis Parlors by a 400-370. The latter led his opponent up to 370 and then McKittrick went to work to make his fine break to win his way into the semi-finals. McKittrick plays Eddie Newman next Wednesday in the semis at 8 o'clock, and Sam Oakes takes on Charlie Irish in the other bracket Friday night at the same hour. Both matches will be 500 points.
